

Scholarship Award Disbursement

The remaining scholarship award year is defined as September 31 through July 31 of the following year. Scholarship award money will be deposited by the Construction Angels charity with the university, college, or institution of higher learning to which the student is admitted, accepted, and will attend. The award money is credited to an account that is established in the individual's name at the school. It can be drawn by the recipient for: (a) fees or charges required for tuition; (b) expenses for text books, course work, lab fees and other materials as required by a course instructor (e.g., art/drawing supplies, glass slides, etc.) for required course assignments or projects; and (c) fees or charges for room and board while attending school. Scholarship awards are not transferable to another individual or institution and are forfeited by the recipient upon withdrawal from the institution where the scholarship award was disbursed by Construction Angels Scholarship Fund, or upon failure to meet the institution's appropriate standards of academic achievement, conduct, or character. If the recipient is diagnosed post-award by a board-certified medical physician as having a chronic or acute illness or traumatic injury that makes it impossible for the recipient to enter or continue his or her academic studies, the scholarship award money will be held for the recipient's academic use for up to 12 months. A letter from the physician must be received within 60 days of diagnosis. In the event a scholarship recipient's educational endeavors are interrupted during the scholarship award year because he or she is called to active duty under Title 10 of the United States Code or National Guard Duty in State Status, the scholarship award money will be held for the recipient by the Scholarship for up to 24 months, unless the time for active duty is extended by the military authority. Any scholarship award recipient leaving the U.S. Armed Services or National Guard duty must reapply for reinstatement of the scholarship moneys or the remaining portion of scholarship moneys within 90 days after severance from duty.
